Minister Dennis Rhodes

Minister Dennis Rhodes was born in San Francisco California but resided in East Palo Alto (EPA) and the Peninsula for 30 years. EPA is located on the southernmost part of the San Francisco Peninsula and lies within the boundaries of San Mateo County. EPA has been described as having “a warm, pleasant climate and fertile level land.” However, it is also known for being, at one time, the murder capital of the United States. The city currently occupies 2.5 square miles of land, but was originally much larger.

Minister Dennis Rhodes arrived in Sacramento California in 1988 and in 1990 was filled with the precious gift of the Holy Ghost. At that time, he prophesied that the city would see a great spiritual out pouring of the presence and power of God when fathers returned their hearts back to the children. Afterwards, God placed him in the vocation of “Father” and every other work for God has blossomed from that foundational position and calling.

In 1991 he joined Christ Temple Apostolic Church where the emanate District Elder Robert B. Holman was Pastor. While under the strong leadership of Pastor Holman he grew to be a leader in the church. He soon was preaching, and leading the youth ministry and developing mentoring programs for his local congregation. After awhile, he had a conversation with Elder Charles A. Warner and told him that God had showed him that he would be working together with Elder Warner at Christ Temple Apostolic Church in the ministry. Elder Warner later became the Pastor of Christ Temple Apostolic Church in 1995 and has led the church in triumphed living for the past ten years. Minister Dennis Rhodes has since grown under the gracious hand of God through the humble leadership of Pastor Warner, and has been dreaming with God, visioning and building the kingdom of God ever since.

In 2003 Minister Dennis Rhodes founded I Trust Him Ministries Inc, a non-profit, powerful faith centered organization with a mandate to position the church to return to its proper spiritual leadership role in the community. The organization has taken on a community pastoral role through its vision of compassion and care by coming out of the four walls of the church and ministering to people where they are. The ministry has a mission to America and the nations to compel humanity to serve God, His house, and His people through its apostolic mandate of community outreach. I Trust Him Ministries two major components are focused on pastoral, and adult and youth leadership development.

Minister Dennis Rhodes states, “When you think about our role in the community, you can almost look at it as a church without any walls between believers. First, we strive to break down the walls between believers by focusing on Christ-centered relationships and not programs and buildings. Second, we are breaking down the walls between nonbelievers by meeting them during the week in the very neighborhoods in which they live. We are not asking people to come to us, but are reaching out to them. Finally, we strive to break down the walls between the believer and the Holy Ghost by allowing Him to move in our lives in His way and not trying to confine the Spirit of God by our programs, traditions or structure. We all have a ministry centered mindset that prioritizes worship, bible based preaching and the desire to see the Holy Ghost fill and empower people. In addition, we are dominated by love, giving, and have a strong and committed focus on Jesus Christ.”
